INUNDATED CITIES.

A Number of Places Flooded Along the Mississippi.

RISING RAPIDLY AT ST. LOUIS.

Railroad Communications Cut Off from Nearly Every Direction—Thousands and Thousands of Acres of Farm Land Entirely Under Water—Hundreds of Families Driven from Their Homes and Their Crops Completely Ruined.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—The Missouri river continues to rise at the rate of nearly an inch per hour. The city of Alton has been entirely cut off from railroad communication for twenty-four hours and travel will not be restored until Friday at least.

West of St. Charles, Mo., the scene along the river is one of desolation and destruction. Thousands upon thousands of acres of rich farm lands on both banks of the stream are inundated to a depth of several feet. Hundreds of farmers have been driven from their homes, their crops destroyed, their stock drowned, and, in many cases, their houses washed into the river.

At Labadie the river extends from the Missouri Pacific track to Augusta on the opposite bluffs, a distance of over five miles. Steamers are landing at the foot of the bluffs at Augusta, two and one-half miles inland from the shore proper.

At New Haven the business portion of the town is entirely flooded.

About twenty-five houses in North St. Louis have floated from their foundations and their occupants are camping in tents on the high ground.

The scenes north on the river are heartrending. From the hills in O'Fallon park relief boats can be seen hurrying to and fro among the needy and helpless people. Over one hundred families in that vicinity have been rendered homeless. To add to the general wretchedness, robbers and thieves have begun to pillage the abandoned houses.

Over 6,000 bales of cotton are in cellars on the levee. Roundabouts are working in water up to their necks, and getting $1 an hour to rescue the cotton. The city's milk supply is to some extent endangered by the flood since the Illinois railroads have ceased to run accommodation trains.

Word has just reached here that the levee on the east bank of the Mississippi river at East Carondelet, seven miles below this city, has broken and that there are thirty-five families there in danger of drowning unless assistance is immediately sent them. The city authorities are now endeavoring to secure a boat to go to the rescue of the people. The break is not a wide one and will probably be fixed before it extends much further.

St. Louis is now threatened with inundation on the north and northeast sides. The Cahokia creek, which flows through a portion of the city, is rapidly filling from the overflow of the lowlands and will soon be out of its banks. On the north side of the city, from the river to the bluffs, a distance of four miles, the territory is covered with water to a depth of four feet. For a distance of two miles the water is held in check by the embankment of the Cairo Short Line railroad. Shortly before noon the report flew rapidly that the embankment had given way and that the flood would settle down upon the central portion of East St. Louis. The greatest excitement prevailed for a short time and many persons made hurried preparations to leave their homes and flee to higher ground. Fortunately, however, the report was, in a measure untrue, and confidence was restored.

A break occurred in the dyke of the Clover Leaf road yesterday, and for over three hours it was feared the waters would sweep away the tracks and allow the flood to overwhelm the little village of Brookly n. A large gang of railway employees were quickly at the scene and deposited thousands of sacks of sand in the crevasse, filling it completely and averting the threatened danger.

At a point just north of Venice is located the cable office of the Postal Telegraph company. The office is in a sea of water and the waves break against it in a manner that threatens to destroy the building.

The latest prediction is that the river will rise six inches or a foot at St. Louis. It is possible the river will go beyond that point. Below this city the rise will be even greater and the levees are expected to go. The signal service sent out a special warning to St. Louis to be distributed throughout the river districts. This warning was prepared by Professor Thomas Russell, the flood and river forecaster of the department of agriculture. It predicts that the river at St. Louis will go a foot beyond the highest stage of water for years, which will put it at thirty-six feet three inches. In the southern district below St. Louis Professor Russell says that the levees will not hold the water which is in sight and coming down.

MISSOURI STILL RISING.

Heavy Rains All Through Kansas and Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—All hopes that the river would fall are now gone and the Missouri, being filled from the volumes of water from the Kaw and Platt, is now creeping up at the rate of an inch an hour and there are no indications that the rise will cease for at least twenty-four hours. It has rained steadily since Tuesday morning. Heavy banks of black clouds cover the sky and the thunder showers are of hourly occurrence.

The water does not come down as spring rains, but in great quantities and makes the gutters rushing torrents, while all this water runs off immediately ly and goes to swell the river. The lowlands are again submerged in Armourdale and Argentine, and those who were moving back to their homes in Harlem are again making arrangements to get away and stay away until all danger is over. From the bottom lands north of here on the Missouri and west on the Kaw the same story comes that of overflow and destruction again, and if the indications as seen at present continue the rise will go higher than it has been this spring.

ALONG THE LOWER MISSISSIPPI.

Levees Breaking While the River is Rapidly Rising.

NEW ORLEANS, May 19.—A break occurred in the levee in the southern part of the city yesterday. It is twenty-five feet wide, and a great volume of water is pouring through. At Bonnet Carre the crevasse is now 275 feet wide. The Mississippi Valley tracks are under two feet of water. The crevasse is twelve feet deep and is discharging 40,000 cubic feet a second. All hopes of closing the break have been abandoned. There is on the scene a force of several thousand men in charge of the officials of the Mississippi Valley and the Illinois Central roads.

An attempt is being made to secure both ends of the break and prevent them from washing. The water thus far has not reached the Illinois Central tracks, but it is expected to cover the roadway within the next twenty-four hours. The river is now nearly eighteen feet above the low water mark and is rising rapidly.

Twenty-Five People Drowned.

SIoux CITY, Ia., May 19.—At 8 o'clock yesterday morning, or a little more than an hour after the workmen living along the banks of the Floyd and Missouri rivers at Sioux City had gone to their work, a torrent of water came down the Floyd and in half an hour had risen over a large area in the city to a depth of three to ten feet. The wind was blowing a high gale and made the work of rescue by boats dangerous as well as fatiguing. It is known that about a dozen persons, among them four or five men have been drowned and the number may reach twenty-five, it not being possible at this hour to confirm all the reports. During the 16th and 17th the rainfall here was extremely heavy, consequently the rivers were already high.

The Washout at Omaha.

OMAHA, May 19.—The washout of the approach to the Union Pacific bridge is not as disastrous as at first reported, yet it is very serious. Yesterday fully 300 feet of the approach, which is a trestling filled in with earth and stone, gave way. The changing of the channel has thrown the full force of the current against this filled approach and it is rapidly washing away. A large force of laborers is trying to bridge the gap with manure, cinders, etc., in order to erect a temporary approach. The Burlington tracks between here and Plattsmouth are badly washed and no trains are running.

Cloudburst in Kansas.

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 19.—Yesterday morning the heaviest rain known fell in this part of the state and along the Republican river causing that stream and the Blue to rise higher than they have been this spring. A cloudburst occurred near the head of the Blue and swept away the house of William Sherman, drowning one child and four horses. Loss of life is also reported from the Watson neighborhood about twelve miles northwest of this city.

Will Entirely Destroy Crops.

JUNCTION CITY, Kan., May 19.—A waterspout struck the country near the head of the Republican river and washed away several houses and barns, killing a large amount of live stock. The heaviest rain ever known in this section fell yesterday, and it is still raining. Four inches of water fell here in less than two hours. The continued wet weather in central Kansas is having its effect on crops and wheat and corn will be a failure this year.

At St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, May 19.—The Mississippi although very high and still rising, is not out of its banks at any point south of Little Falls. The Chippewa has flooded the town of Montevideo. The Minnesota is overflowing at Sleepy Eye, and the Redwood and Minnesota are doing great damage at Redwood Falls. The big dams at Fergus Falls are in danger of collapsing.

Fearing the Worst.

LITTLE ROCK, May 19.—A repetition of the great flood of 1884 is feared by the people in the Arkansas valley. The situation is due to incessant rains. North Little Rock is in great danger of being submerged. Thousands of acres of land are flooded.

At Greenville, Miss.

GREENVILLE, May 19.—The country is being gradually flooded by water from the Panther Forest break. It is now about 1,000 feet wide and water is flowing through it at the rate of nearly 100,000 feet per second.

Town Entirely Under Water.

SALIX, Ia., May 19.—This town is five feet under water and has been for twelve hours. No lives are reported lost, but the damage to property and stock is immense. All business is at a standstill.

Railroad Traffic Suspended.

CAIRO, Ills., May 19.—The Iron Mountain road between this place and Poplar Bluffs is submerged and portions of the track washed away. Railroad traffic is generally suspended.

FLOOD BULLETIN.

The Weather Bureau in Washington Sends Out a Special Report.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The weather bureau has issued the following special flood bulletin: The threatening aspect of the outlook for the lower Mississippi valley has deepened in the past forty-eight hours, as regards the prospect for intensity and duration of the impending flood. With the water now in sight matters stand about as follows:

There has been a rainfall of 2.2 inches along the Missouri river from Kansas City to Pierre, and 2.5 inches along the Arkansas from Fort Smith to Little Rock. The rainfall in Iowa, Missouri and Illinois and along the upper Mississippi averages over 1.0 inch.

The present high stage of the Missouri at Kansas City will be maintained for some time, and may even increase in the next three days. The upper Mississippi at Dubuque has risen two feet in the past five days; at St. Louis the very high stage of 36.3 feet prevails, there being a rise of six feet in the past five days. The rate of rise has slackened. The prospects are that the rise will continue one foot more, and a high stage will be maintained for some time.

The Ohio has begun to rise. The stage at Cincinnati is twenty-four and five-tenths feet. The present Ohio rise will not be of much importance. The Cumberland is at a low stage. The Tennessee is low. At Cairo the river is at a stage of forty-one and eight-tenths feet having risen five and three-tenths feet in the past seven days. It is not expected the stage will go above forty-three feet in the next two days. It will continue stationary, however, at the high stage, and it remains to be seen yet what will occur with the Missouri flood.

All hope of saving the town of Madison in the northern part of St. Clair county, Ills., has been given up and it is believed that the town will be under six feet of water by morning.

Many of the residents of East St. Louis have moved from their homes, but the main portion of the city is still safe.

The American bottom, the most fertile section of Illinois, is now a sea twenty-five miles long and five miles wide. Thousands of acres of growing crops are now under ten to twenty feet of water, and at least one-third of the stock has been drowned. All farm houses are under water, and many have floated away. The work of rescuing farmers from their house-tops and supplying them with food is being prosecuted with vigor.

BIG THREE AGREEMENT.

Small Packers Satisfied and Contracts Will Be Signed.

CHICAGO, May 19.—A morning paper asserts that the fight between the packers here has been settled, the smaller men being now placed on a footing with the "Big Three." The terms of the settlement were yesterday agreed upon and C. P. Libbey and Henry Botsford, representing the Stickney packers, were appointed a committee acting under the advice of Levy & Mayer, as counsel, to arrange the difficulties that have existed. It is expected that the contracts will be signed this week. According to these the yards of the Union Stockyards company will be transferred to the property of the Chicago National Stockyards company in the town of Cicero.

The packing houses of the "Big Three," and those of the other concerns doing business at the Union Stockyards will remain where they now are. Cattle will be received at Stickney, where extensive facilities will be prepared for their reception. They will be transferred to Bridgeport over the new road that is to be built by the Union Transfer Railway company. In connection with this line a new belt line is to be built, to give the Stickney yards the necessary railroad connection with the various lines entering the city.

There will be no change in the yardage charges, but all the packers will be placed upon an equal footing with the "Big Three" by the payment of a rebate equal to that received by these packers by the contract with the Chicago Junction railways and Union Stockyards company.

The deal involves the dismissal of the lawsuits brought by the Stickney packers in Chicago and New Jersey to declare invalid the agreement with the "Big Three."

BLAINE A CANDIDATE.

He Consents to Have His Name Presented to the Convention.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Secretary Blaine, it is said, has consented conditionally to the use of his name at the Minneapolis convention. Nathaniel Paige, of Washington, is staying at the Fifth Avenue hotel. He stated last night that Stephen B. Elkins, secretary of war, had a conference with Secretary Blaine and President Harrison, and had received definite instructions from both to present the name of either at Minneapolis as the Republican nominee for president.

Mr. Paige also stated that Secretary Elkins was given permission by both Blaine and Harrison to withdraw the name of either as may seem advisable at the time.

Dying of Paralysis.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., May 19.—It is thought that Samuel Hamilton, the banker, is dying of paralysis, of which he was seized March 24. He is yet conscious. Mr. Hamilton is eighty years of age. He came from Ireland in 1834, engaged in merchandise in this city and continued the same for twenty years, when he embarked in the banking business. He is worth $500,000, which he disposes of by will to his wife and two children, after devising large sums to the churches of this city. The Shelby bank will continue under the management of Thomas Fleming, the present cashier.

Mysterious Death.

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 19.—Mary Frances Canada, only fourteen years old, but the size of a fully developed woman, was found dead in bed this morning. Her death is very mysterious no cause being known.

LEGAL EXECUTION.

Another Murderer Pays the Death Penalty in New York.

ELECTRICITY DID THE WORK.

Joseph L. Tice, the Rochester Wife Murderer, Executed—He Was the Ninth Man Executed in the State Under the New Law—The Execution Was a Great Success from the Start.

AUBURN, May 19.—Joseph L. Tice, the Rochester wife murderer, was executed at 6:30 Wednesday morning. He was the ninth man executed in the state under the new law. The execution was a great success from the start. Short contacts were made, this being deemed better than too long ones. There was nothing revolting about the scene.

The witnesses saw no burning of flesh, no exhalation of air from the lungs, no struggle of the victim. The murderer met his fate calmly. The electric current was turned into the body four times, each contact being brief. The physician in charge believed that better results would be obtained in this way than with two long contacts. The complete time of contact was fifty seconds.

Tice slept from 10 to 12 o'clock Tuesday night. At midnight he was awakened to be shaved. He had been told early in the evening by his spiritual advisers that his life would be taken Wednesday morning. He said he was ready and would meet death like a soldier and he joined fervently in the prayers of the clergymen.

All the physicians examined the body and all agree that Tice had passed into eternity the instant the first contact was made. Electrician Davis said that the indicator showed 1,720 volts on the first contact with a very slight falling off when the three other circuits were made. A closer examination of the body showed no marks or burns upon it.

Dr. Ruf declared that the electrocution was perfection itself.

Chaplain Yates and Pastor Penney were with Tice half an hour before the execution took place. He told them, they say, that he did not sleep well Tuesday night and that his spine had pained him considerably.

"He was very brave," said Chaplain Yates. "He fulfilled his promise to Mr. Penney and myself that he would die like a man and a Christian. His last words to me were, 'Oh, if I didn't drink that whisky.' 'Put that in big type,' added Mr. Penney, with tears in his eyes. Then he said: 'But for that very thing he was as good a man as any witness in this room.'"

Dr. George E. Fell, of Buffalo, who also witnessed the Kemmler execution, said: "The execution of Tice can not be improved upon. The frequent short contacts are undoubtedly the best method. There was nothing revolting in this case. As compared with the Kemmler case this was the more satisfactory. In the execution of Tice there were absolutely no reflex movements from the beginning to end, aside from the rigidity of the body produced by the breaking of the current. I was one of the first to advocate electrical execution, and, after seeing this execution, I am satisfied that the grounds I assumed were correct. There is no method comparable to it, which this case demonstrates."

Joseph L. Tice was born in Albany July 9, 1839. Of his early life little is known. The first learned of the murderer was just previous to the war, when he deserted his family in Michigan. On the breaking out of the war Tice enlisted in the Fifth Michigan cavalry. His war record is good and he was honorably discharged. After the war he went to work in Rochester. About twenty-four years ago he married Mrs. Agnes Leggett in that city. He claimed to have been divorced from his first wife. Hardly had the honeymoon period expired before Tice went on a protracted debauch.

At last, after one of many brawls, Tice attempted to stab his wife, and she left him and was given a place as a domestic at the boarding house. Tice completed a thirty days' sentence for intoxication on July 4, 1891. That day he announced his intention of killing his wife and sharpened his knife for the deed. Going to the house, he unexpectedly appeared before his wife and stabbed her three times. She lived about half an hour. Tice was arrested and indicted, tried and found guilty of murder in the first degree. Several attempts were made to induce the governor to interfere in the case, but he said each time that the law must take its course.

FOUR WOMEN ASSASSINATED.

An Unknown Person Does His Deadly Work in Texas.

DENISON, Tex., May 19.—Tuesday night was a night of sorrow in Denison. Between 11 p. m. and 3:30 in the morning an unknown assassin brutally killed four women, two of them ladies of the city and two members of disreputable houses.

The first victim was Mrs. Haynes, wife of the prominent doctor of that name. She was a young and very attractive woman and was assassinated either while alone, or in her home, or else was forcibly taken from the same and put to death near the house.

A few hours later, in the very heart of the city, Miss Teen Hawley, a beautiful young lady, was shot and killed by some unknown person.

At almost the same hour in a different part of the city, two women, inmates of disreputable houses, were brought face to face with death and laid low by bullets of an assassin. The assassin fired through a window of the residence of Mrs. Rivers, killing Maud Kramer, an inmate. He then crossed the street to Lester's bawdy, and in a similar manner shot and mortally wounded Rose Stewart as she was getting into bed.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Special Election Saturday, May 21.
 For State Senator,
GARRETT S. WALL.
 Election, November, 1892.
 For Circuit Clerk,
ISAAC WOODWARD.
 For Sheriff,
J. C. JEFFERSON.

To the Democrats of Lewis and Mason.

Without seeking the honor, the standard of the party, for the office of State Senator, has been placed in my hands. The election is Saturday next, May 21, 1892. Your cordial support is asked. Every Democrat who has at heart the success of his party should be at the polls on Saturday. It is impossible for me to visit you in person, as I have but three days in which to make the canvass, but I trust that my services in the past will be a guarantee that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office, should I be elected; and I hope that your devotion to your party will prompt you to see that I am elected, and cause you to notify your neighbors and friends to attend the election. Very truly yours,

May 16, 1892.

GARRETT S. WALL.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Showers, followed by fair; west winds.

THERE is no Democratic faction fighting the nominee for State Senator. The honor was unsought by Judge Wall, and it is the duty of the leaders to get out the party vote for him.

THE Louisville Times is mistaken when it says Judge Wall has heretofore served in the Legislature. With this exception, the Times' remarks given elsewhere in this issue are correct and to the point.

WHITELAW REID, one of the foremost Republicans of the land, does not think Harrison has the "adaptability" to render him personally popular. Recent events indicate that Mr. Reid's head is level on this subject. If it were not for the thousands of office-holders backing him the President wouldn't stand a ghost of a show at Minneapolis.

THE news came a few days ago all the way from Washington that Colonel Watterson's letters on the Presidential question were having great effect on Kentucky's Democrats. But that report doesn't "consist" with the following from Monday's issue of the Louisville Post. The Post says: "The Democratic people of Kentucky are for Cleveland, and Mr. Watterson will have to educate and write a great deal more before this notion can be gotten out of their heads. Wise or unwise, they are disposed to cling to this sentiment; and with great difficulty in Louisville, Mr. Watterson's own town, and with greatest efforts on the part of his friends was an unqualified indorsement of the ex-President prevented."

THE editor of the Public Ledger is "away off" when he states that "the nomination of Judge Wall has reopened old sores." On the contrary this nomination has healed the "old sores," if there were any to heal, and the Democracy was never in greater harmony or in better order to fight the enemy.

Our neighbor thinks the Democratic nominee can be easily beaten. Well, the editor of the Ledger certainly has not been listening to the many compliments paid Judge Wall by members of the Republican party, not a few of whom have expressed their intention of cordially supporting him. He is acceptable to the Democrats of Lewis and Mason, and to the people generally, and his nomination is one of the rare cases of "the office seeking the man."

High Prices for Tobacco.

What is claimed as the highest price to date for 1891 burley tobacco was obtained by E. Drane, of Shelby County, at the Kentucky Growers' Warehouse, Louisville, a few days ago. He sold four hogsheads leaf and lugs at $29.50, $19.25, $18.25 and $11. Averaging $19.50. The hoghead bringing $29.50 was a clear, long leaf of the red filler type. The price is $1.50 higher than the highest previously paid for 1891 crop. The Growers' House also sold for Mr. Snodgrass, of Harrison County, eight hogheads fine leaf, lugs and trash at $25, $24.50, $22.50, $21.50, $19.75, $19.25, $18 and $15, averaging $20.53.

C. P. Vawter was allowed $5 for making coffin for pauper.

An additional medical account of Dr. C. C. Wells for $24.25, and of Dr. F. M. Downing for $10 were tabled. The medical account of Dr. J. F. Irvin was refused.

Judge Whitaker was allowed to make a statement in regard to Ara Brazier, a pauper living on his place. He was allowed $25 for keeping her.

Judge Coons made a statement in regard to the county's law suit against C. C. Degman. The Judge was allowed $50 as attorney's fee in said case by a vote of 23 yeas, to 1 nay,—2 absent. Mr. Degman's communication and protest in the matter was laid on the table.

The report of Judge Whitaker, committee of Ara Brazier, was received and filed.

The usual allowance at last term for extra attentions at jail, court house &c., was, through mutual mistake of Jailer Kirk and ex-Jailer Fitzgerald, pro-rated between them. The whole amount should have gone to Jailer Kirk. Since the mistake was discovered Mr. Fitzgerald has paid over to the County Treasurer

$65, the amount received through said mistake, and the Treasurer was directed to pay said sum to Jailer Kirk. Judge Phister, for the committee appointed to attend to the matter, made an oral statement in regard to the sewer at the jail.

The sum of $100 was appropriated in hands of Thad Bullock to build a bridge over Middle Run Creek on Orangeburg and Taylor's Mill dirt road.

Dr. C. C. Owens was elected Jail Physician by deposit of one ballot. He was the only candidate.

John Ryan, John Furlong, James Maher, Amos Jefferson, Henry Dieterich and Addison Pollitt were placed in nomination for Superintendent of the Infirmary. The ballot resulted; Ryan 12, Furlong 6, Maher 2, Jefferson 2, Dieterich 1, Pollitt none. Ryan was declared elected.

I. L. McIlvaine, C. W. Williams, S. E. Mastin and J. H. Grigsby were nominated for Board of Infirmary Directors. Messrs. McIlvaine, Williams and Grigsby were elected, the vote standing, McIlvaine 21, Williams 18, Mastin 9, Grigsby 21.

Dr. S. M. Cartmell was the only candidate for Infirmary Physician and was elected by the deposit of one ballot.

The usual allowance of $6 for court room rent was made to various the Justices of the Peace, except those in this city who hold court in the quarterly court room.

A communication from the Board of Internal Improvements of the City of Maysville was read and filed. The communication was in reference to the bridge over Limestone Creek, and asked the assistance of the county in erecting a good, safe and durable bridge for the mutual interests of both city and county. Action on the matter was postponed indefinitely.

The County Judge was directed to draw an order on the Treasurer for $110.20 to pay the costs in the suit of the county against C. C. Degman.

Court then adjourned till this morning. The total claims allowed to date amount to $4,298.58 and the salaries foot up to $2,400.

THE BIG BONANZA MINE.

A Smoking Hole in the Ground Out of Which Mackay Took $150,000,000.

I was strolling with Mackay some years ago in Virginia City, when we looked down a smoking cavity in the ground that was soon lost in the darkness, and at the mouth of which a windlass was slowly grinding. "Out of that hole," he said, "I took $150,000,000 in bullion." This was one of the famous Bonanza mines, whose history all men know. The Big Bonanza, as it was called, and as Mackay described it to me at the time, was a "kidney" or a "pocket" of crude ore, about as high as the steeple of Trinity and in area as large as the City Hall park of New York. This ore, shoveled out and reduced, gave the stupendous yield to which Mr. Mackay referred, and was the foundation of the Bonanza fortunes.

Associated with him were three other gentlemen, whose names were to win a worldwide mining fame—James G. Fair, afterward senator from Nevada, whose skill as a mining expert had attracted the attention of Mackay; William O'Brien, and James C. Flood. O'Brien and Flood had come to California as friends in the Argonaut days, and had like other men taken their humble parts in the creation of the Pacific states. In those times men who were to be major generals in the army drove drays for a living. Others who were to become luminous in statesmanship and jurisprudence joyfully mended their own trousers and washed their own linen.

They were "partners," a term that Bret Harte has pathetically explained in one of his exquisite stories. "Partners," that is to say, friends, with a friendship such as we who live outside of the atmosphere of adventure which infolded the Argonaut days cannot understand, and which would be but vaguely explained if we compared it to the love of man and woman.

"Billy was my partner once," as Mr. Flood said to me one day in Menlo, while we were looking at the portrait of O'Brien; "Billy was my partner once. He is my partner now, will be my partner forever"—a speech which made a deep impression, coming as it did from the lips of one of the most resolute, self-restrained and undemonstrative of men. Flood was the financial representative and the ally of the two young miners who were at work on the Bonanza; O'Brien, the "partner" in the firm, because Flood could have no interest he did not share.

O'Brien passed away in Bonanza times—Flood not many months since, in Germany. He was a brave, independent, reserved, conscientious man, especially charming and true in the higher relations of life—no better citizen, no truer friend—"in all that goes toward the true development of manhood, the best man I have ever known," as Mackay said to me when the hour of irrevocable silence had fallen. "I know only one man in the world that can break me, and that is Mackay." This Flood said to me and I note it as showing the strong links which in those days bound the Bonanza firm and gave it a strength and a confidence which were the basis of its power.—John Russell Young in Munsey's Magazine.

The population of the Cherokee Nation, which has recently sold 6,000,000 acres of land to the government, is about 80,000. The Cherokees are a highly civilized tribe of Indians.

TWO SONGS

WE DON'T ADVERTISE.

There is a land of bitter tears and wailing—
 A land most like that drear one Dante knew,
 Where woe-faced Niobe, with dark robes trailing,
 In sad procession moves, brows crowned with rue.
 It is a land peopled with witless mortals—
 Compared with them the Virgins five were wise,
 And it is writ above its gloomy portals:
 "We do not think it pays to advertise."

WE DO.

There is a land that flows with milk and honey—
 Not condensed, nor yet the sorghum strains—
 Each dweller bears a gripsack fat with money,
 Bonds, coupons, stock and various other gains.
 Happy are those, as at high tide, the fishes;
 No tear doth drown the laughter in their eyes;
 For better luck they have no sort of wishes:
 The gold is theirs—they learned to advertise.

Beauty as a National Trait.

Is there any handsome people on the face of the globe? Now, we may set aside the black and yellow and polychrome races in general, many of whom are well shaped and like bronze statues to look upon, but who do not come up to the Aryan standard in features and color. Leaving these children of nature out of the question, it may be confessed that there is no race among whom beauty is common. If the ancient Greeks were like their statues, then there once was a beautiful race, but it is not so certain that they did not idealize themselves a good deal. There is the more reason to guess this, as when they have to represent a barbarian, say a Gaul or a German or a professional prize fighter, they make these people as handsome as themselves, though in a rougher way.

There is a famous bronze statue of a boxer, who might be taken for an orator or a poet were it not for his heavy metal studded gloves. Thus it may be deemed that there is a great proportion of the ideal in these statues, vases, coins and figures, where every one is so graceful and goodly. Every nation has a high opinion of its own charms. The French pride themselves on small feet, and it is certain that their women walk very little, and have cunning bootmakers.—London News.

Plurals of Several Words.

Knight errant is not written as one word, and need not be even connected with a hyphen—indeed, is not so generally. Therefore the plural, of course, is knights errant. Lookers on is not one word. Once that usage has soldered two words, the resultant word will form its plural with a final s. The plural of bootjack is not bootsjack.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Nuptial Event of the Week Celebrated at Christian Church Yesterday.

Marriage of Mr. James Edward Parker and Miss Ella Gordon Downing.

Another pretty marriage service was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the Christian Church. It was the event of the week in social circles, and the rain that was falling did not prevent a large crowd from assembling to witness the nuptials of Mr. James Edward Parker and Miss Ella Gordon Downing.

The ceremony was solemnized at 3 o'clock, Rev. Chapman S. Lucas officiating.

As usual on these happy occasions, the church was prettily and artistically decorated. The main aisles and the side aisles were all arched with cut flowers and evergreens, midway between the entrance and the altar, and the pulpit platform was covered with tropical plants and blooming hydrangeas, the arrangement forming a pretty background to the attractive scene during the marriage service.

Miss Lillian Smoot, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor, while Miss Charlotte Perrine, Miss Mary Hall and Miss Retta Smoot were the bridesmaids. Mr. H. C. McDougale officiated as the groom's best man, and the attendants were Messrs. Will Jenkins, Augustus Wells and John R. Downing.

A march from Mendelssohn's "Athalie" was rendered by Miss Berry, organist, and Dr. P. G. Smoot, violinist, as the bridal party entered the church. First in order came Miss Perrine, followed by Mr. Jenkins, then Miss Hall, followed by Mr. Wells, then Miss Retta Smoot, followed by Downing, and then came the bride accompanied by her maid of honor. As these entered and drew near the altar by the west aisle, the officiating minister followed by the groom and his best man approached by the east aisle. During the impressive service, "Call Me Thine Own" was played softly and sweetly on organ and violin.

The bride's costume was Faille silk, made en princess, finished at skirt with flounce of point lace; waist, V neck; veil of tulle. Her only ornament was a lovely bracelet, set in turquoise and diamonds, an emblem of good luck. It was a gift from her two brothers. She carried a bouquet of Bride roses.

The maid of honor's dress was of crepe de Chine, pointed train; half veil of tulle. She carried calla lilies and ferns.

Misses Mary Hall and Retta Smoot wore costumes of Canton crepe, princess en train, with trimming of cream lace. They carried bouquets of Catherine Mermet and Mareschal Neil roses.

Miss Perrine's costume was of embroidered India silk, finished with flounce of lace. She carried La France roses.

Leghorn hats trimmed with flowers and ribbon were worn by the three bridesmaids.

The groom and attendants wore the customary black dress suits.

The groom is general bookkeeper at First National Bank and is the youngest son of Mr. Peter L. Parker, a prominent farmer. The bride is a pretty brunette, and is the only daughter of the late Darius Downing, who was one of Mason County's prosperous farmers. Her maid of honor and two of her bridesmaids, Misses Hall and Perrine, were her classmates at Daughters' College, Harrodsburg, a few years ago.

The newly wedded left on the F. F. V., an hour or so after the marriage, for Chicago, where part of the honeymoon will be spent.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

Proceedings of the Omaha Convention.

COLOR QUESTION BROUGHT UP.

Hissses and Groans Heard in the Conference, Which Will Probably Delay the Uniting of the Methodist Episcopal Churches North and South—A Russian Resolution.

OMAHA, May 19.—Bishop Foster guided the conference yesterday morning. Several resolutions declaring the conference in favor of equal representation of ministers and laymen, and asking that the conference be divided into two houses, were received and referred to the committee on equal representation, without debate.

The Baltimore conference asked that the next general conference devise means to modify the functions of the offices of presiding elder in order to secure greater efficiency at less expense to the church. The action of some members of the conference in hissing Dr. Tigert, the fraternal delegate from the Methodist Episcopal church south, was discussed freely during the lull in business and many unfavorable comments were heard. The hissing was caused by a remark by Dr. Tigert that "the southern whites are the best friends of the colored men." The dark skinned delegates and their sympathizers did not believe this, and groans and hisses were directed at the speaker. It is the consensus of opinion that the insult offered Dr. Tigert will delay the proposed consolidation of the two churches.

Hon. Charles Baker, fraternal delegate from the independent Methodist church of Baltimore, was received and presented the greetings of those churches. He delivered an eloquent address, which was heartily applauded, and a resolution of thanks and greeting was returned him by the conference.

Governor Evans, of Colorado, offered a resolution setting apart the district of Colorado, West Nebraska, South Dakota, Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, and Wyoming as a publication district, and that a committee be appointed to superintend the publication of a Western Christian Advocate as the Rocky Mountain Advocate will suspend publication owing to limited support. After a parliamentary wrangle, the resolution was laid on the table.

Bishop Foss read a resolution formulated by the Episcopal board on the Russian famine. In its preamble it refers to the great aid rendered the United States by the presence of Russian warships on our coast during the civil war and rejoices that the time has come that America can reciprocate by sending food to the starving Russians. A copy of the resolution will be engrossed and sent to the Czar of Russia. The resolutions were adopted.

It was ascertained that the third ballot Tuesday for the second member of the Cincinnati Book Concern resulted in the choice of Jesse L. Hurlburt, for secretary of the Sunday School and Tract society; Dr. J. W. Mendenhall, editor of The Methodist Review; Dr. James Monroe Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate; Arthur Edwards, of Detroit, editor of The North-western Advocate, at Chicago; David H. Moore, editor of The Western Advocate. Considerable discussion took place on report of committee on itineracy, but no decision on the subject was reached. The majority report favors the removal of the time limit, believing Methodists could be better subserved by the permanent location of ministers. The minority oppose the removal of the time limit.

HOUSE AND SENATE.

Another Dull Day in Both Branches of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Another day was devoted to the sundry civil bill in the house, the items of surveys for public lands and the appropriations for topographic surveys being the only clauses which gave rise to debate. The northwestern members made earnest but unsuccessful appeal for irrigation surveys and the extreme western congressmen succeeded in having the appropriation of $100,000 for public land surveys, increased to $200,000.

The chair decided the points of order made by Mr. Tracey, Democrat, of New York, on Monday last against the appropriation of $100,000 for coinage of uncurrent fractional coins abraded below the limit of tolerance, and also against the free silver coinage amendment of Mr. Bartine, Republican, of Nevada, overruling the former and sustaining the latter point. Only four pages of the bill were concluded. The house then adjourned. The senate put in the entire day considering the naval appropriation bill, but did not accomplish much.

A School Teacher Sued.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 19.—Miss Williams, a teacher in the Second ward schools, is made defendant in an assault case, which will come up for trial on the 28th inst. A pupil named Mabel Cavens, ten years of age, was accused of writing a scandalous note, which she denied, and for which, it is alleged, she was subjected to unnecessarily severe punishment. Wells were raised on her arms, two switches being worn out in the operation. The case is set for trial on the 28th inst.

Inhuman Father.

LIBERTY, Ind., May 19.—John Conklin, a farmer living south of Liberty, yesterday beat his wife until she was insensible, then took their sixteen-month-old babe and left for parts unknown. A warrant for his arrest was issued, but he could not be found. No cause was given for the cruelty.

California Democrats.

FRESNO, Cal., May 19.—The Democratic state convention yesterday discussed the report of the committee on resolutions and credentials. Resolutions instructing the delegates to vote for Hill were passed by several of the delegates. All resolutions were referred to committees.

MADE AN EXAMPLE OF.

Fraudulent Spiritualist Gets a Two Years' Sentence.

BERLIN, May 19.—Frau Valesca Toepfer, a spiritualistic medium of wide reputation, was sentenced yesterday to imprisonment for two years for having given fraudulent manifestations at seances, and thus having obtained money by false pretences. She worked with a confederate, and by rapid changes of costume impressed her patrons with the idea that they were seeing the spirits of dead friends.

It is said also that she used the same means of deception to get under her influence a high member of the East Prussian nobility, although this fact was carefully suppressed during the trial. Following the instructions of the supposed spirit of his dead wife, the nobleman invested much of his money in enterprises in which Frau Toepfer was interested, and sold land that he might give the medium direct financial aid. His friends took the matter in hand when they found that he was likely to be beggared by the medium, and at a private sitting of four of them, they found Frau Toepfer in the act of impersonating the dead wife.

They agreed not to prosecute her in case she would leave their friend alone, and she promised to have nothing more to do with him. She did not keep her word and she was exposed again, although in connection with other manifestations so that her relations to her titled victim need not be revealed at the trial.

Frau Toepfer has been the most prosperous, and otherwise successful medium in Berlin, and has been a favorite advisor of many persons in high standing at the court.

MINISTER SMITH'S RETURN.

A Notable Banquet Held in Philadelphia in Honor of the Event.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—Few such notable companies have assembled in Philadelphia as that which last night welcomed home Hon. Charles Emory Smith after his absence of two years as minister to Russia, with a banquet at the Bellevue. Every interest of Philadelphia had eminently fit representation—bench and bar, manufacturers and commerce, trunk line and street railroads, politics and journalism. It was a reunion of fellow-citizens, of whom not only the guest of the evening, but Philadelphia might be proud.

The large banquet room presented a most attractive scene when the guests were all seated shortly after 7 o'clock. The menu was thoroughly enjoyed, and for nearly two hours bright chatter and hearty laughter accompanied the music of the silver and china. At 9 o'clock Chairman MacVeagh, in a neat speech, which was frequently applauded, introduced Hon. Charles Emory Smith, who made the speech of the evening. He was followed by Colonel McMichael and others.

LIBRARIAN TUTHILL DEAD.

Was His Demise Hastened by the Killing of a Friend?

COLUMBUS, O., May 19.—Information was received here yesterday announcing the sudden death at his home in Lancaster of Hon. John C. Tuthill. The deceased was librarian under Governor Campbell, and had tendered his resignation to take effect Oct. 1. He was about fifty years of age. In October he was attacked by la grippe, from which he never fully recovered.

For the past two weeks he has been at the library a few days each week. When he left for his home last evening Mr. Tuthill said he felt better than for several weeks, and the announcement of his death occasioned great surprise and general regret, as he was popular with all who knew him. Henry Keller, killed on the railroad Tuesday, was a special friend of Mr. Tuthill and the latter was so wrought up over the accident when visiting the coroner's office here in this city to view the remains of his friend that it is thought this had something to do in hastening the death of the librarian.

Not Satisfied with Robbery.

LIMA, O., May 19.—Tuesday night about 12 o'clock thieves entered the residence of Thomas Lawson by cutting a window open, and after helping themselves to what they wanted they proceeded to set fire to the house. Had it not been for the timely discovery of the fire the inmates of the house would have been suffocated and roasted to death. And as it was when the neighbors aroused them it was almost impossible for them to escape on account of the dense smoke. Laura, their seventeen-year-old daughter, was forced to jump from a second story window. She was considerably bruised, but not seriously injured by the fall. A short time ago vandals attempted to fire another house in that part of the city.

Meeting of Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16.—The Democratic state central committee met here yesterday, and in connection with the state candidates and prominent members of the party from all sections of the state, discussed the outlook and took steps for a vigorous campaign. The members reported that the nomination of Matthews, for governor and, indeed, the whole ticket had been received by the party with unusual cordiality, and there was no soreness over the result.

Dead Body Recovered.

BELLAIRE, O., May 19.—The body of Mrs. Jennie Sutton, who drowned herself off the Bellaire ferryboat some weeks ago, was yesterday found at Barnesville, thirty-four miles below here.

Struck by an Engine.

CANTON, O., May 19.—John Sanzenbacher, a wealthy banker of Canfield, while walking along the Fort Wayne track was struck by an engine and badly injured.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 19.—Ward's stables on North Mississippi street were burned yesterday and eight horses and four mules perished in the flames. Several buggies were also destroyed, the total loss being about $2,500, with very little insurance. The fire was incendiary and the police are investigating it.

Can Thank Their Good Fortune.

CHILLICOTHE, O., May 19.—A frightened horse bucked a buggy containing Mrs. Augustus Sault and son, of Hallsville, this county, off a bridge which spans a deep and rocky stream, about a mile from this city. The horse was killed and the buggy wrecked, but neither of its occupants sustained the slightest injury. Their escape was miraculous, as the fall was fully forty feet.

Explosion in a Tenement House.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Gas exploded about 5:30 p. m., yesterday, in the cellar of the five-story tenement, 172 Eldridge street. Three persons were injured by flying glass. The injured are: Rudolph Sulkes, twenty-three years of age, of 174 Eldridge street; Ida Mox, aged nine, of 172 Eldridge street; Barnard Marx, four years old, 172 Eldridge street. The damage to the building is slight.

Newspaper Suspends.

ENGLISH, Ind., May 19.—The English Democrat, a weekly publication, has suspended publication. Lack of patronage from business men and subscribers who paid in arrears, were the principal causes, but a lack of harmony among the stockholders had much to do with the abrupt ending of an enterprise which might have reaped a substantial future.

The Value of Pearls.

Nothing varies so much in value as pearls. With them fashion affects the market constantly. Sometimes white ones are sought, while other tints at intervals are in demand. For some years past black pearls have been the rage. A fine specimen, worth $600, will fetch $1,000 perhaps if another can be got to match it perfectly.—Kansas City Times.
